ENV451 CURRENT ENVIRONMENTAL TOPICS - FS 2021

SYLLABUS

First class: September 10th, 2021
Fridays: 10:00 a.m. - 1:00 p.m.
Location: Online/synchronous
Instructor: Dr. Erich Vogt
erich.vogt@utoronto.ca
TA: Brian Pentz, TBC
Brian.Pentz@mail.utoronto.ca
Student hours: by appointment only

Course Description

Global environmental dangers are among the most profound challenges facing humanity. They fundamentally undermine the quality of life and threaten the organic infrastructure that supports all life on earth. It is within this context that the course explores the socio-political dynamics of global environmental affairs. The course will also look into the multiple causes of environmental harm and, with students’ help, try to identify effective response mechanisms. Finally, it endeavors to examine a number of key challenges - including climate change, biodiversity, energy, water, agriculture and food, as well as waste – as they are being addressed in both academe and professional practice.

Drawing on both official and informal studies and field work from around the world and diverse sources, academic papers, news accounts and editorial pages of journals and newspapers, major negotiation conferences and informal meetings, as well as the insights of leading thinkers and thinking leaders in both the developing and developed worlds, the course will foster ‘deep’ learning (as opposed to ‘strategic’ learning), creative thinking, collaborative learning and critical debate. Students are encouraged to ask probing questions and offer comments, however tentative, in class.
This is a "capstone" course and invites students to draw on their years of studies across all academic disciplines. It is designed for students coming to the end of their undergraduate study of the environment and preparing to move on to the next phase of their academic and professional development and competence. In other words, it calls on and encourages students to synthesize insights gained throughout their academic journey.

Course format

The course will be delivered on the Quercus platform and Zoom. The delivery of the lectures will take place ‘live’ at the designated times (Fridays, 10 am – 1 pm). Attendance and participation in the lectures is expected. This course, including your participation, will be recorded and made available for your review after each session on Quercus.

The syllabus, course videos and related materials belong to your instructor, the University, and/or other sources depending on the specific facts of each situation, and they are thus protected by copyright. In this course, you are permitted to download session videos and materials for your own academic use, but you should not copy, share, or use them for any other purpose without the explicit consent of your course instructor. Because recordings will be provided for all lectures, students may not create additional audio or video recordings without written permission from the instructor and/or teaching assistant. Permission for such recordings will not be withheld for students with accommodation needs.

For a basic introduction to the various Quercus features, I suggest consulting the following post: https://uoft.service-now.com/utm_iits?id=kb_category&kb_category=dda905911bbae010277b33f3cc4bcbfe

Course framework

The course material is presented in three ways: course readings, lectures and breakout group discussions. Students will be asked to write three papers (critical review, memorandum to political decision makers, research/policy paper). Despite the online delivery format, every effort will be made to make the course as interactive and participatory as possible. This, however, requires that students attend, do the assigned readings and follow lectures closely, preferably ‘live’.

Technology requirements for online learning

This course requires the use of computers, and, as we all have found out on occasion, sometimes the technology doesn’t perform as expected. Because ‘what can go wrong will go wrong’, you should plan ahead and ensure that you maintain regular backup copies of your files, use antivirus software and schedule enough time when completing assignments to allow for delays due to technical glitches. Computer viruses, crashed hard drives, broken printers, lost or corrupted files, incompatible file formats, and similar mishaps are common issues when using technology, they are not acceptable grounds for asking for deadline extensions.

That said, UofT has identified the following minimum technical requirements needed to access remote/online learning courses such as ENV 221:

Learning environment

All members of the learning environment in this course should strive to create an atmosphere of mutual respect where all members of our community can express themselves, engage with each other, and respect one another’s differences. The University does NOT condone discrimination or harassment against any persons or communities.
Learning objectives

Those who participate fully in this course should by its end:

- Have improved their critical thinking capacity;
- Have a well-rounded and balanced understanding of the multiple causes and implications of a range of current environmental challenges and of different forms of response;
- Comprehend and appreciate the role of science, the state system, the global political economy, and civil society in exacerbating and/or mitigating environmental problems;
- Understand and articulate the difference in perspectives of developed and developing countries and appreciate the tensions between conservation and development;
- Demonstrate proficiency in framing more effectively research questions and approaches, analysis, verbal presentation, and writing skills.

Readings

Readings for each class are listed in the Lecture Topics section below. Every attempt has been made to make all of them available electronically, and in some cases also as hard copy. You can find the readings on Quercus in the Library Resources file. I traditionally do not spend time in class reviewing books’ and readings’ content; rather I will selectively pick on some of the main themes and hypotheses of writers’ works, then test and pick them apart – with your help!!!

If you are a citizen of another country, and/or accessing your courses at the University of Toronto from a jurisdiction outside of Canada, you may be subject to the laws of the country in which you are residing, or any country of which you have citizenship. As you know, the University of Toronto has a long-established commitment to human rights, freedom of expression, and it provides an environment which values respect, diversity, and inclusion. Against this backdrop, in this class you may be assigned readings, or discuss topics that are against the law in other jurisdictions. I encourage you to become familiar with your appropriate local laws that may apply to you and any potential impact on you if course content and information could be considered illegal, controversial, or politically sensitive. If you have any concerns about these issues, please contact me directly for further clarification.

Communication

Emails are normally responded to within 48 hours, but not during weekends or on public holidays. All official communications and announcements from the instructor and TA will be sent either via the ‘Announcement’ file on Quercus, or students’ official UofT-issued e-mail addresses.

Course Assignments: All papers must be submitted electronically via Quercus

1) Critical review - 25 Percent

Based on the information and insights gained in previous (environmental) courses, you will be asked to critically review a contemporary environmental essay as written by a designated author. Specific instructions will be provided in the lectures and accompanying students’ guidance note by the end of the first couple of weeks of classes.

Three (3) pages, 1.5 spacing, TNR 12 font, endnotes and bibliography. A selection of essays will be posted roughly 2 weeks before due date on Quercus, and papers are expected to be submitted electronically on Quercus.

Due: October 8th, 2021, 11.59 p.m. (EST)

2) Memorandum - 30 Percent

You are the special climate change envoy of a G20 country of your choice. Write a climate change memorandum for the Sherpa of your chosen G20 country and present your arguments for overhauling the existing (part of) policy. More specific instructions will be given in the lectures and students’ guidance note.

Four (4) pages, 1.5 spacing, TNR 12 font, endnotes and bibliography.

Due: November 5th, 2021, 11.59 p.m. (EST)

3) Research/Policy paper – 35 Percent

The purpose of this combined research/policy paper is to give students an opportunity to explore and develop a paper that focuses on SDG 13. This five (5) page paper must: (1) examine the chief causes/drivers of the issue(s)/problem(s) - as you see them based on your own critical assessment; (2) outline what the international community has agreed to do about it (targets, indicators); and (3) provide ideas and recommendations of how best to move the solution from concept to practice. More specific instructions will be given in the lectures and students’ guidance note.
The paper shall have 1.5 spacing, with 1 inch margins, 12 points font, endnotes and bibliography.
Due: December 3rd, 2021, 11.59 p.m. (EST)

Evaluation criteria of all written work products
The primary criteria used in evaluating students’ written work are the following:
1) Content: Content is Queen/King!!!
2) Mechanics: Defined as freedom from minor factual errors and spelling and grammatical errors. Where asked, students are expected to include thorough, accurate and consistent references in any bona fide academic referencing style that includes page numbering.
3) Writing style: It should be appropriate for an academic environment. Beyond that, style will be evaluated primarily in terms of clarity. Proper use of the English language is expected!
4) Structure: Papers will also be evaluated in terms of their organization and coherence. The structure of the paper must logically flow from the assignment question(s) and must add up to a coherent whole.
5) Precision and accuracy: Precision means saying exactly and specifically what you mean, avoiding ambiguity and vague generalities. Accuracy refers to absence of major factual errors.
6) Analysis: Analysis will be evaluated in terms of success in using evidence in the form of data/information to construct a logical argument which convincingly answers your assignment question(s).

4) Participation in weekly lectures - 10 Percent
Students are expected to attend all classes and actively engage in ensuing breakout group discussions. Participation means making insightful comments, asking probing questions, and being involved in the ongoing discussions in ways that show students have done the readings and are thinking critically about the content and discourse of the class.
If the time zones in which students are based would significantly impair their ability to participate, please contact your instructor or TA for alternative arrangements.
Evaluation criteria of all oral contributions

1) Success in communicating key concepts succinctly and accurately, thereby demonstrating sound understanding of the work being presented.

2) Mechanics of communication, such as manner of speaking (including good diction and tone), structure of the presentation and level of organization.

3) Ability to respond appropriately and fairly to questions and contribute to and stimulate unstructured discussion among peers.

There will be no mid-term and no final assessment/exams

Late penalties
No due dates will be extended unless discussed with and agreed upon by your TA in advance. Penalty for late work will be 2% of the assignment mark per day late, including weekends. Late papers will be accepted only for one week after the due date. Papers submitted later will not be reviewed and assessed. The only exemption from this penalty will be for work that is late for both medical or non-medical reasons. In such cases, students must record either their absence from academic participation or late submissions through the ACORN online absence declaration. In addition, students should advise both the instructor and their designated TAs of their absence and request for late submissions.

Grading scheme

The course will follow the University of Toronto’s undergraduate courses grading scheme:

Academic Integrity

Academic integrity is fundamental to learning and scholarship at the University of Toronto. Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in this academic community ensures that the U of T degree that you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement, and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves. Familiarize yourself with the University of Toronto’s Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters (http://www.governingcouncil.utoronto.ca/policies/behaveac.htm) and (https://www.academicintegrity.utoronto.ca/). It is the rule book for academic behaviour at the U of T, and you are expected to know the rules. Potential offences include, but are not limited to:

• In papers and assignments:
• Using someone else’s ideas or words without appropriate acknowledgement
• Copying material word-for-word from a source (including lecture and study group notes) and not placing the words within quotation marks
• Submitting your own work in more than one course without the permission of the instructor
• Making up sources or facts
• Including references to sources that you did not use
• Obtaining or providing unauthorized assistance on any assignment including:
  o working in groups on assignments that are supposed to be individual work o having someone rewrite or add material to your work while “editing”
• Lending your work to a classmate who submits it as his/her own without your permission
On tests and exams:

- Using or possessing any unauthorized aid, including a cell phone
- Looking at someone else’s answers
- Letting someone else look at your answers
- Misrepresenting your identity
- Submitting an altered test for re-grading

Misrepresentation:

- Falsifying or altering any documentation required by the University, including doctor’s notes
- Falsifying institutional documents or grades

You can get further guidance on academic integrity from the website of the Office of Student Academic Integrity at: www.artsci.utoronto.ca/osai/students

As of September 1, 2021, UofT will be using a new plagiarism detective tool called Ouriginal. Normally, students will be required to submit their course essays to the University’s plagiarism detection tool for a review of textual similarity and detection of possible plagiarism. In doing so, students will allow their essays to be included as source documents in the tool’s reference database, where they will be used solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism. The terms that apply to the University’s use of this tool are described on the Centre for Teaching Support & Innovation web site (https://uoft.me/pdt-faq).” In this course, I plan to pursue a different approach which I will outline on September 10th in our first class.

Accessibility needs

Students with diverse learning styles and needs are welcome in this course. The University of Toronto is committed to accessibility. If you require accommodations for a disability, or have any accessibility concerns about the course, the classroom or course materials, please contact Accessibility Services as soon as possible at https://www.studentlife.utoronto.ca

If you require additional accessibility remote/online learning information, please have a look at: https://studentlife.utoronto.ca/covid-19-accessibility-faqs/
Writing Centers

All seven Faculty of Arts and Science writing centres will be operating during this summer session, and all will be offering synchronous one-on-one instruction with asynchronous options at some colleges. Please visit each individual centre's site for information on how to make an appointment.

The FAS centres are listed at https://writing.utoronto.ca/writing-centres/arts-and-science.

Also note that more than 60 Advice files on all aspects of academic writing are available from http://advice.writing.utoronto.ca. Printable PDF versions are listed at http://advice.writing.utoronto.ca/student-pdfs.

International students are invited to check out the English Language Learning program. It is available at http://www.artsci.utoronto.ca/current/advising/ell. For more information, please contact the ELL coordinator Leora Freedman at ell.newcollege@utoronto.ca.
